I do not quite understand this case. The applicant was first employed in the Military Deptt and then in the Police. Why should not the two services be combined for purposes of pension? The service was under the same Govt.
The Asstt Secretary will please explain the case to me.

Branch Syad An served in the Barr as a sepoy on Rs 7 for 3 years 2 months and then joined the Police as a Constable. In the latter Deptt he served for 21 years. A gratuity only has been sanctioned to him for his Police service, whereas if the military service is also counted he will be entitled to a pension of Rs 3/87. He has applied for the grant of a pension instead of gratuity. The rule of 29th Augt 1908 says that "unless specially allowed by Govt in special cases service which is pensionable under the rules applicable to Savar & Barr force does not count" art 26. I think Syad Ali's case is deserving of being treated as a special case. There is not much difference between the service as a Barr Sepoy and as a Police Constable. I understand that the principal objection to the combination of services is that the military service is not classed as superior & inferior. But the British Regulation Sec. 357 says that in special cases, pensionable service in the military Deptt may be taken to count for pension on the inferior scale. The present case is one of this kind. If the combination is not allowed the man will be cut off with a gratuity which will be very hard. The gratuity already sanctioned
